International application No.
PCT/US03/08505V. Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement*1. STATEMENT

Novelty (N)	Claims 1-9	YES
	Claims NONE	NO
Inventive Step (IS)	Claims 1-9	YES
	Claims NONE	NO
Industrial Applicability (IA)	Claims 1-9	YES

2. CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS

Claims 1-9 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(2)-(3), because the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest the invention as claimed. Ginter et al., US Pat. No. 6,253,193, teaches a system for secure transaction management and electronic rights protection wherein content control information is used to negotiate between control information from plural parties (Ginter, col. 45, line 7 - col. 47, line 22), but fails to teach or fairly suggest a central server, a client server located in a home, a plurality of home nodes connected to the client server, a conflicts manager for receiving inputs from said central server and said client server; and a conflicts specification manager for receiving specifications describing how to resolve conflicts between said central server and said client server, wherein said conflicts manager applies said specifications in order to resolve conflicts based on said central server inputs and said client server inputs.

Claims 1-9 meet the criteria set out in PCT Article 33(4), and thus have industrial applicability because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in industry.
